Origin of the Ricochet Area Munitions Response Site and the Military Munitions Response Program

J. Kimberly Harriz
NGB-ARE-I
703-607-7991
AGENDA

Military Munitions Response Program (MMRP)
Army National Guard (ARNG) MMRP Sites
Fort Indiantown Gap MMRP Inventory and Site Inspection
DoD’s

Military Munitions Response Program

Established by:

Requires:

• Inventory of non-operational Defense Sites, known or suspected to have Unexploded Ordnance (UXO), Discarded Military Munitions (DMM) or munitions constituents.

• Implementation of appropriate Response Actions to reduce risk to human health and the environment.
Army National Guard
Military Munitions Response Program
Active Sites
ARNG
ENVIRONMENTAL PROGRAMS

CAMP WILLIAMS, UTAH

Rose Canyon Training Area
UXO: 8-inch projectile 155mm projectiles

Artillery Impact Area
Buffer Zone

Impact Area

2 Miles
Camp George West, CO

GPS Tracks walked during January 29, 2010 site walk

Vicinity of recovered 75mm munitions debris
FORT INDIANTOWN GAP MMRP
Inventory and Site Inspection

• 2003 - Closed, Transferred, and Transferring (CTT) Range/Site Inventory Report.
  • Cold Springs Range Fan – Artillery Firing Point 1940-1970.

• 2007 – Historical Record Review.
  • Ricochet Area MRS – Combined 2 sites. Eliminated area northwest of Stony Mountain.

• 2009 – Site Inspection Report
1956 Hummelstown Quadrangle Map With FIG Range Overlay
FORT INDIANTOWN GAP MMRP
Inventory and Site Inspection

• 2003 - Closed, Transferred, and Transferring (CTT) Range/Site Inventory Report.
  • Cold Springs Range Fan – Artillery Firing Point 1940-1970.

• 2007 – Historical Record Review.
  • Ricochet Area MRS – Combined 2 sites. Eliminated area northwest of Stony Mountain.

• 2009 – Site Inspection Report.